DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "3" has been used to designate: "float-glass plate", "projector side" and "viewer side". A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because:

- a. Reference characters "2" and "(1)" have both been used to designate the same element on Figure 4.
- b. Reference characters "8" and "9" have both been used to designate the "projected light".

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "transparent object" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

5. Applicant is required to submit a proposed drawing correction in reply to this Office action. However, formal correction of the noted defect may be deferred until after the examiner has considered the proposed drawing correction. Failure to timely submit the proposed drawing correction will result in the abandonment of the application.

Specification

6. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: there is no description of element 10 in the specification.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

Art Unit: 2851

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

8. Claims 1-2, 4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Watanabe, et al.

Watanabe, et al. (US Patent Number 6,262,840 B1) discloses a see-through light transmitting type screen (Figure 15) comprising a light scattering layer (11, 41) having a front-scattering property; wherein the light scattering layer (11, 41) consists of a transparent binder (15) containing spherical microparticles (12); further comprising an anti-reflection layer (28) provided on at least one side of the light scattering layer (Figure 24); wherein the transparent binder is glass or high molecular resin (column 13, lines 23-31).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Watanabe, et al.

Watanabe, et al. (US Patent Number 6,262,840 B1) teaches the salient features of the present invention, including the spherical microparticles having a mean particle diameter of $1.0\ \mu\text{m} - 10.0\ \mu\text{m}$ (column 11, lines 51-56), and a refraction index relative to that of the transparent binder (column 12, lines 15-21). Furthermore, Watanabe, et al. explains how it's possible to obtain a desired diffusion angle by selecting refractive indexes of the respective parts and members of the screen. Watanabe, et al. inherently discloses that the refraction index relative to that of the transparent binder n satisfy the relation $0.91 < n < 1.09$ ($n \neq 1$).

Alternatively, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made, to utilize a transparent binder, which satisfies the relation $0.91 < n < 1.09$ ($n \neq 1$), for the purpose of having a light converging effect determined in response to a value of the refractive index.

11. Claims 3 and 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe, et al. in view of Lee.

Watanabe, et al. (US Patent Number 6,262,840 B1) teaches the salient features of the present invention, except a transparent object provided on at least one side of the light scattering layer.

The examiner notes that element 14 of Lee's reference, could be interpreted as the claimed transparent object. However, the following is presented in order to expedite prosecution.

Lee (US Patent Number 6,337,769 B1) discloses a transparent object (14) provided on at least one side of the light scattering layer (column 2, lines 35-41).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to utilize the transparent object disclosed by Lee in Watanabe, et al.'s invention, for the purpose of providing and image display system, possibly connected to variable image devices.

12. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe, et al. in view of Iwata, et al.

Watanabe, et al. (US Patent Number 6,262,840 B1) teaches the salient features of the present invention, except a screen having a haze of 3.0% or more and distinctness of image of 60.0% or more.

Iwata, et al. (US Patent Number 6,327,088 B1) discloses haze and distinctness values (column 3, lines 24-28; Table 5).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to utilize the haze and distinctness values disclosed by Iwata, et al. in Watanabe, et al.'s invention, for the purpose of preventing the occurrence of the reflection rays out of incident rays coming from outside.
